WELCOME TO THE WORLD OF WEB COMEDY

In the summer Channel 4 teamed up with Learn Direct to give one lucky person the prize of having their comedy website designed by professional web designers and hosted by Channel 4.

The winner you voted for is Ian Vince - The Department of Social Scrutiny. Check out his winning website and see what made the public laugh. Who is Ian Vince? He tells us his side of the story.

Visit Ian Vince's second website at www.trepanning.tv

If you think you can do better, what's stopping you? All the inspiration, ideas and advice are right here on Comedy Circuit, which covers all that is hip and happening in the world of the comedy web. The site looks at the pioneering names of the newest mediums, profiles the hottest new names and finds out which sites make them laugh.

To help with the practical details, there are master classes from the experts, explanations of the basic terms to sort your HTML from your Java, and a listing of where to go for more information.

If video is your thing, put your feet up and relax in the viewing room with some of the best work around.
